

4th Annual Graduate Student Workshop

Sponsored by the Institute for the Study of Religion, Economics, and Society
May 29-30, 2015—Chapman University (Orange, CA)
Application Deadline April 10th

IRES invites applications to its fourth annual graduate student workshop. The workshop is designed primarily for advanced students in economics, sociology, and political science, but we welcome proposals from all disciplines.

The Workshop provides two days of intensive instruction, interaction, and feedback for a select group of advanced graduate students. Each student must have a completed paper, and all papers will be circulated and studied in advance. Sessions will center on presentations and discussion, with professors and students giving detailed feedback on each paper. Alumni of the workshop are strongly encouraged to submit their papers for presentation at the March 2015 meeting of ASREC (Association for the Study of Religion, Economics, and Culture).

Applications should include a completed paper and CV. Send applications to Celia Perez at celia@chapman.edu no later than April 10th. In the body of your email, please include your university affiliation, email, and graduate advisor.

IRES will cover the cost of economy flights, hotel, and meals. For more information about IRES and last years' workshop, visit <http://www.thearda.com/asrec/grad/> and <http://www.chapman.edu/research-and-institutions/institute-religion-economics-society/index.aspx>

Faculty participants will include:

- Chris Bader, Chapman University (Sociology)
- Jean-Paul Carvalho, University of California, Irvine (Economics)
- Tony Gill, University of Washington (Political Science)
- Laurence Iannaccone, Chapman University (Economics)
- Mike McBride, University of California, Irvine (Economics)
- Andrea Molle, Chapman University (Political Science)
- Steven Pfaff, University of Washington (Sociology)
- Jared Rubin, Chapman University (Economics)
- Carolyn Warner, Arizona State University (Political Science)